From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

A "Tidy" Problem

Red Dolan dropped by the Widow Parker's last week to drive her to the depot. She was leaving on her annual month-long visit with her sister. "Lend takes the folks in this town are nice," she said. "You're the fourth person that's offered me a ride today and I've already arranged to go with Mrs. Phillips. But Red, there is one thing you can do for me."

"You name it," says Red. "Well," she replied, "in some diplomatic way would you let my nice friends know they won't do me a favor if they come in and house-clean for me. They did last year and it took me three days to get things back to rights." From where I sit, some folks start out with good intentions and end up interfering. We may not agree with the way our friends fix up their homes and they may not agree with our preference for beer with meals, but these are choices we each have a right to make. Respect for them is the biggest "favor" of all.

Mentally Ill Men in State Prisons Not Getting Needed Psychiatric Aid

MENTALLY ILL MEN in Michigan prisons need help they are not getting. A program is underway that would shift some of the people in mental institutions to the Howell Tuberculosis Sanatorium. The mental patients would be shifted in such a way as to make room at the Ionia State Hospital for the criminally insane for dangerous psychotics from the prisons. But what the Corrections experts would really like to see is a separate unit for psychiatric care.

They would prefer to have this diagnostic and treatment center, which would take care of chronically ill as well as mentally and emotionally disturbed inmates, in the Detroit or Ann Arbor area. There are several reasons why this location is preferred. It would be close to the research facilities of state universities. It would be near the metropolitan areas of southeast Michigan where many offenders are apprehended. It would be centrally located to most of the prisons and mental institutions of the state. Ideally, the diagnostic and treatment facility would serve as a reception center for screening of all convicted felons.

While Michigan's corrections system has many urgent needs, the lack of adequate facilities and staff to care for mental cases seems to be the most critical. Warden William H. E. of State Prison of Northern Michigan, recently warned legislators during budget hearings that the discipline situation at the Jackson institution is currently more explosive than was just before the infamous 1952 riots.

The supervisory staff is better able to deal with problem situations now, but mentally ill persons at large in the general prison population constitute a tremendous hazard.

Getting state money for a diagnostic treatment center is just one of the problems for the Corrections Department. It would cost more than $18 million.

Until such a facility is provided, the department faces a tough job in keeping professionally competent people staffing existing diagnostic and treatment units within the prisons.

"The state Corrections Department believes that proper treatment of the psychotic, the borderline psychotic, the emotionally unbalanced and the chronically ill would be an investment that would pay off in a reduction of the number of returns to the state prison system," a recent report on the situation said.

NON-STOP DRIVING, especially on superhighways, increases the chance of an accident, the state Highway Department believes.

In fact, monotony is increased by the very ease of driving on the four-lane freeways that are part of the interstate highway system in Michigan.

One weapon in the fight against fatigue is the so-called "rest area" being included in contracts for new freeways.

These parking areas alongside rural sections of the interstate system, where motorists can stretch their legs and otherwise make themselves alert for more hours of driving, cost from $80,000 to $100,000 each. About 100 rest areas are now planned for the state's freeway system. They will be about 35 to 50 miles apart.

Federal law prohibits commercial service facilities within the highway right-of-way on interstate routes, but the rest areas are expected to keep drivers more alert and less likely to have an accident.

INDICATIONS ARE that the common "gas station" may be one of the most risky businesses in Michigan.

While motoring miles continue to increase, and multitudes of super-service stations thrive by selling gasoline, oil, other products and service, customers face the bankruptcy rate for this most familiar of business ventures is appalling. Homer V. Lundberg, Dowagiac who operates Small Business United, Inc., says all firms of this type need to thrive is a chance to get going on their own.

In an appearance recently before the state Senate Taxation Committee, which was studying property taxes, Lundberg mentioned the plight of the gas stations.

He said there was a 37 per cent bankruptcy rate among service stations last year.

The roughly 200,000 small businesses, employing an average of two workers each, should be considered as a vital part of the overall picture when the talk turns to business taxes, Lundberg said. And lawmakers would do well to think twice about the 8,000 or so gas stations in Michigan, he said.

The People vs Cancer

WHY did I volunteer as Honorary Education Chairman of the American Cancer Society's 1961 Crusade? Because I had cancer and had to fight it in all its hard reality. I am glad I did not give up.

I have come to know a lot about cancer. I have seen it in all its hard reality. I am glad I did not give up. I have seen it in all its hard reality. I am glad I did not give up.

Every time I talk to a volunteer, I am struck by the warmth, by the determination to do something productive for mankind. What more can we do? Join in the fight against cancer.

Assets Of County Families Rising

(Special to the Avalanche)

New York — Residents of Crawford County have been adding to their wealth in recent years. As of 1960, the wealth (net worth) of the local population amounted to no less than $4,835,000 it is estimated, based on latest economic studies.

Included in this total is the current value of all their worldly possessions — house, car, savings, everything — over and above their debts.

While the figure, admittedly, is not a precise one, it flows from national data presented by such agencies as the National Industrial Conference Board and the Federal Reserve System, adjusted to date.

The broad picture of personal wealth shows that, for any particular family, it is directly proportional to its income, for many years. The more it made the more it was able to acquire, in the way of possessions, and the more it was able to put into savings.

In Crawford County, where average incomes have been on the rise over the years, even allowing for inflation and for the occasional setbacks caused by recessions, the net worth of local families has been going up accordingly.

As of last year, the median per-family wealth in the county was an estimated $3,565 on the basis of average annual earnings. Half the families had more than this and the other half had less.

Making up the median family's assets were its cash in the bank, money invested in savings bonds and other securities, the market value of its car and its home, furniture, appliances, jewelry and all other saleable goods and property.

From that were subtracted the amounts owed in installment debt, on bank loans and the like.

Not included in these assets were the additional holdings of farm families, whose net worth is much higher than that of town dwellers. The value of their acreage, livestock and farm equipment must be taken into account.

The national wealth of the United States, including government-owned property, which was placed at $1,448 billion in 1956, is now estimated at more than $1,800 billion. Structures of all sorts, farm, non-farm and public — represent nearly half the total.

Your State Representative
(Presque Isle District)

First, a correction: A week or two ago in my column, I referred to Senator Prescott's and Senator Schweigert's districts as the 10th and 11th districts respectively. This reference should have been to the 28th and 29th senatorial districts respectively.

Wow! last week was something I will remember for a long time. Previously, it had been agreed that all House of Representative bills must have cleared the House by April 14. We finished about 11:30 P.M. on that date after setting a mad pace all week.

This week, we are working on Senate Bills which had passed that Chamber by midnight, April 14 and the Senate is working on House Bills.

Money bills always create a lot of excitement. This last week, the House passed appropriation bills for all state functions: schools, highways, agriculture, welfare and so on. The total amount was $463,177,470.00. Many people and groups are unhappy because they did not get as much money to spend as they thought they should. In general, I think the House Co-

The total amount was $463,177,470.00. Many people and groups are unhappy because they did not get as much money to spend as they thought they should. In general, I think the House Co-committee that decides on how much money each state agency gets to spend has done a very good job. It is recognized that perhaps some groups could use more money effectively, but the question is, where is that money coming from? In general, we feel that taxes are high enough now, but before we can spend more, it will be necessary to tax more. Right now, the money that will come in next year from taxes and the money that will be spent pretty well are in balance.

My own feeling is that if we could go through all state agencies with a fine tooth comb and eliminate wasteful spending, we could save enough money without more taxes to provide some of the more deserving programs with the money they need.

There is a growing feeling in the legislature, that this fine tooth comb procedure must come sooner or later.

Last week, the House passed a re-appointment bill. According to the 1960 census, Michigan is entitled to send another Congressman to Washington. It is up to we legislators here in Lansing, to make provision for electing this Congressman. A Democrat sponsored bill would have eliminated one of our northern Michigan Congressmen and given the Detroit Peninsula Democrats helped us kill this bill. Instead, a bill was passed by the House which, if it becomes law, will leave our northern Michigan Congressional district as they are now and give the Detroit area one new district.

There is some feeling that if the State Senate goes along with our proposal, Governor Swainson will veto the bill. Let's hope not. And, talking about vetoes, Governor Swainson vetoed House Bill 28 which I thought was a fair bill.

Without Federal Aid . . .

One of the great, continuing issues of the time in this country has to do with the role the government plays, or should play, in local problems and affairs. Without going into all the pros and cons involved, one thing can be said with certainty: "We now look to the central government for all manner of services and aids that were totally unknown a comparatively short time ago. And the cost of these has become staggering over the years."

It is argued that only the federal government has the resources to deal effectively with a lengthy list of local difficulties. And it is true that Washington has long provided aid and succor when disasters, such as floods and tornadoes, have struck various regions. However, in late times, local governments and local groups have turned almost automatically to Washington and to the federal treasury for troubles that are simply not in the disaster category and that, in a previous era, would have been dealt with at home.

The question, of course, is just how necessary federal aid for certain purposes is — and whether or not the local community could solve most of the local problems if it only tried. A publication of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States casts a revealing light on the matter. It tells the story of Fort Smith, Arkansas, which, in 1959, became what is known as a "depressed area."

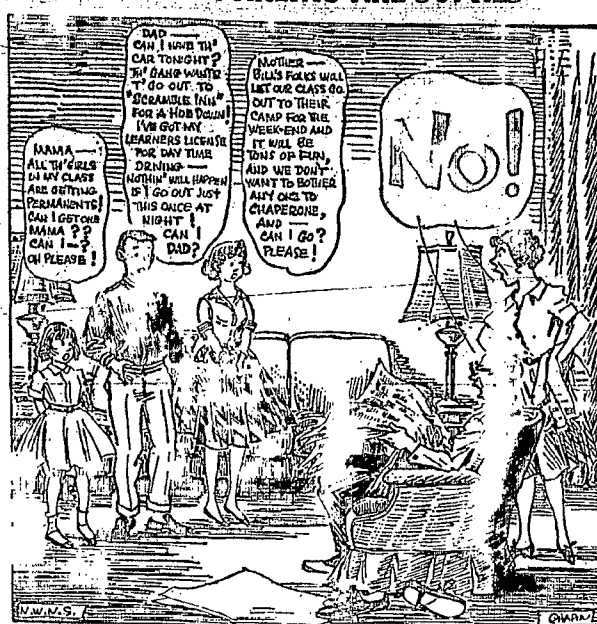

Cause of the trouble was the closing of a major army base on the city's outskirts. The GI's who had spent freely disappeared. With them went a thousand civilian jobs. The area lost 6,000 of its population. Numbers of businesses went to the wall, and for sale and for rent signs appeared in hundreds of dwellings.

But Fort Smith did not go hat in hand to Washington for help. Instead, local leaders decided to do the needed job with local energies and resources. The Chamber of Commerce was revitalized and given additional financing, and its industrial development program was completely overhauled. A 100-man committee was organized into teams to inventory the area's tangible assets.

Surveys were conducted to gather the material that would make Fort Smith attractive to prospective industry. It was shown that operating costs were lower than in many other places; that good municipal services were available at moderate tax cost; that the school system was excellent; that there was an abundance of the necessary natural resources; and so on down an impressive list. Then, whenever the opportunity presented itself, industrial location teams, armed with their inducements, pleaded their case before the executive officers of industries.

The program has been an outstanding success. Last year 1,188 new jobs came into being in the city — more than were lost when the army camp closed. The year also witnessed the coming of seven brand new industries and 22 major industrial expansions, accounting for a capital expenditure of more than $18 million. A new $10 million plant is nearing completion, and production just started on another $3 million development. New shopping centers are springing up, school facilities are being improved, bonds have been voted for a new civic auditorium, and the Fort Smith atmosphere has turned from gloom to optimism.

The Chamber's report observes, "Disdaining any kind of federal aid from Washington, Fort Smith's business leaders declare: 'We're a city on the move. There's no limit where we can go.' It seems only fair to say that many another community could do as much when trouble strikes, instead of asking Uncle Sam to take care of everything."

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

May 5, 1938
Scholastic honors for the high school graduating class of 1938 go to Virginia Charron as Valedictorian, and Beatrice Peterson, Salutatorian. These two Seniors won these high honors by maintaining consistently excellent work throughout their four years in high school. Both have taken an eighty-three out of a possible eighty-four, honorable mention, while the Salutatorian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Peterson, won a total of eighty-two out of a possible eighty-four points. Both have been active in school and class activities throughout their high school years as well as excelling in classroom work. Both of them, together with their parents, are to be sincerely congratulated.

Last Thursday evening, Most Worshipful Grand Master W. H. Parker and his assistant Grand lodge officers were in Grayling to dedicate Grayling Lodge's new temple. It was a most notable gathering, with the distinguished visitors taking a leading part in the evening's program. Most Worshipful Grand Master Parker remarked on the fine record made since their meeting in Grayling some time last fall, when the next to impossible has been accomplished. He especially complimented Fred Welsh and T. P. Peterson for their loyalty and patriotism in coming forward with considerable materials, flooring, etc., which had to go into the building of the temple and for their masterful effort in making possible the financial responsibility and for their plans for carrying them out. This was followed by the officers of Grayling Lodge taking their respective stations. Worshipful Master Larson announced that the temple was ready for inspection in order to ascertain if it were complete and ready for dedication. When Grand Master Parker and his assistants appeared in the lodge rooms, marching three times around the lodge room and taking their respective stations about the room that had been vacated by the local lodge officers. The Grand lodge master announced that an inspection of the temple had been formally requested and ordered the members of the Grand Lodge to proceed at once. It was first tried by the square, when one of the officers tested every corner to see that it was square, and according to Masonic requirements. Another officer tested the walls to see that they were plumb. At the end of the affirmative, the regular Masonic temple dedication was carried out. It was a very dignified and interesting ceremony and left lasting impressions on all present, many of whom were not Masons or members of the Eastern Star. A significant event occurs in Grayling on May 19th when a special air mail flight will stop to pick up air mail from the Grayling Post Office. The Grayling post office is entered in a contest for the cancellation of the largest number of Air Mail letters and articles, and a count of all such mailings will be made during Air Mail Week, May 15 to 21. Big count of airmail articles during this period will be an important factor in Grayling's efforts to include this city as a permanent stop on the proposed Detroit to Saint Ste. Marie air mail route. Miss Marie DeLamar and Miss Ann Brady, accompanied by Leland Marshall and Bartlund Eldred, attended the Trout Festival at West Branch Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Charles David of Flint and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Perigo of Saginaw spent the weekend in Grayling with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eggle Bugby. George Markwart of Royal Oak and Alfred Markwart of Saginaw, brothers of Mrs. Bugby, were also visitors at the Bugby home over the weekend. Dr. and Mrs. Robbins have moved into the Clair Smith house on Maple St. Dr. Robbins is located at Camp Ausable. The Smith family have moved to the Military reservation. Twin daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. John W. Libcke (Ingeborg Hanson) in a Detroit hospital this morning, according to a message received by the happy grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hanson. The message said they were very healthy and each weighed over 8 pounds. Congratulations. Mr. Libcke recently received a nice appointment on the State Tax Commission. Dr. and Mrs. R. A. VanVleck of Beloit, Wis., arrived in Grayling Sunday to remain here for the summer. The former, who operates a tourist resort at Lake Margrethe, says that they have already had more reservations for this summer than during any previous year, and look for a good season's business. What started out to be a family home for the VanVlecks during the summer-time has developed into a real industry. But it gives the Doctor opportunity to get away for a few months from a busy professional life, and he seems to like it. Fire of an incendiary nature destroyed the cottage at 2224 Wilkinson of Detroit April 23rd. It was located at Connors Flats on the Ausable. Local officers and state police are looking for the perpetrators. The four youngest children of the Floyd McClain family are ill at their home at Lake Margrethe with scarlet fever and the home is under quarantine.

Carlton Wythe is busy these days making cement blocks, having recently purchased a new Miles power block machine. Employing three extra men besides himself, the machine is capable of turning out 100 waterproof blocks per hour. The tamping of the machine has a striking force of 288 pounds. Mr. Wythe has close to $1,000 worth of equipment on the ground at his home where he carries on his operations.

Looks like the youngsters about town are better anglers than the oldsters. Just for instance Bruce Nielson, 8 years old, armed with a stick some four inches long together with part of his kite string, went down to the river and stopping at Salor's Fly Factory bought himself a hook. Placing a juicy worm on the hook he no more than threw it into the water than he felt something jerk and there was an 8 inch German brown on the end of his hook. He was loathe to leave the spot and sent home his prize with his brother Terry. His brother Carl Henry that afternoon caught a nice 12 1/2 inch German brown, along with some smaller ones in a catch. Young Carlisle Gierke landed four ones the first day; Everett Bidvia, Ted Nelson and Howie Smock each had seven for their day's catch Saturday. Jimmy Tinker, 12 years old, came home Tuesday night with a nice 14 inch German Brown. Most of these were caught along the river between the two bridges in town. Mrs. A. E. Mason and Mrs. Charles Tremble of Detroit and her home his prize was his brother Terry. His brother Carl Henry that afternoon caught a nice 12 1/2 inch German brown, along with some smaller ones in a catch. Young Carlisle Gierke landed four ones the first day; Everett Bidvia, Ted Nelson and Howie Smock each had seven for their day's catch Saturday. Miss Salome Forbush of Maple Forest is a guest of her cousins, the Misses Wilbur.

Mr. Connine, father of R. D. Connine, celebrated his 66th birthday yesterday by coming down town for the first time since last October's severe cold days in Grayling first of the week.

Dennis Johnson is the new flagman at the Michigan Central Portage Lake railroad crossing.

One of the tennis courts at the gymnasium is in readiness and the boys are enjoying the sport very much.

John Horan has opened an auto repair shop in the garage building formerly occupied by the Grayling Machinery Repair company. The shop has been in business since the city from Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Melstrup of Lansing, telling of Elizabeth Ann, born April 26, 1915.

Many of the local fishermen report nice catches of trout, in spite of unfavorable weather. Also good catches are reported by guests at the fishing resorts.

Mr. and Mrs. David Montour and daughters Bernadette and Fedora moved to Bay City this week in Bay City and Standish.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fredman left Monday afternoon for their home in Milwaukee. Mrs. Fredman has spent several months here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Joseph.

P. J. Mosher and son have moved their herd of cattle to the Morey Dale farm 5 miles west of Moorestown. Seventy-eight head moved there Friday. 440 acres are fenced in and the cattle will be able to care for themselves without the attention of a herdsman.

Frank Walton of Bay City has been a guest of his daughter, Mrs. C. R. Keyport and family. He enjoyed some real trout fishing during his visit. He was formerly a prosecuting attorney of this county.

Miss Anna Nelson of the Salling Hanson Company office and Miss Minnie Nelson of the Kerry and Hanson office will leave tonight for an extended trip through the western states. They expect to be gone about two months and will return home by the northern route. Miss Mabel Nelson will take charge of her sister's duties at the Kerry & Hanson office.

About ten men were employed on the work of erecting the office building for the new DuPont Powder factory last week. The basement was dug and well driven. The work is under the supervision of Mr. Miller Rose, as master mechanic; A. L. Foster, general foreman, and G. T. Loveland, engineer. This week there will be about fifteen men at work and things will progress rapidly. Mr. Rose stated to the Avalanche last week that the company expected to have the factory running some time in November, and will employ some 75 men.

What Is Sales Resistance?

Literally dozens of books are written each year on the art of selling for salesmen — most of them earning handsome profits for their authors. How useful they are, it seems to me, depends on how adept the salesman is at sidestepping their usual complicated formulas and gaining out of them one of the basic things that makes any real difference to his success — a stimulus to his enthusiasm.

With a little thought you will realize that the real heart of sales resistance — the customer's state of mind that stands between the salesman and a sale — is simply lack of sufficient confidence. While temporary advantage may be achieved by high pressure and fast verbal footwork, the only lasting way a dealership and its salesmen can be successful is to gain ever greater customer confidence.

How is this done? As any successful business man will tell you it isn't done overnight, but it is always done the same way: by DESERVING confidence. It is really self-evident that every time a business man renders a service or handles a sale in a manner that wins the customer's goodwill, it is planting a seed of confidence that will bear fruit in more sales at a later date. That is our selfish motive in making our new and used car guarantees mean something and our service result in satisfaction. It turns buyers into customers.

THE LONGEST UNFORTIFIED BOUNDARY IN THE WORLD

Shown here are the thirty-two Peace Markers which Kiwanis Clubs on both sides of the common U.S.-Canadian border have established at principal ports of entry. These Markers are dramatic proof of the peaceful nature of the longest un- fortified boundary in the world. This map is presented at the time of the thirty- sixth observance of Canada-U.S. Good Will Week.

PLAN TO PROMOTE MICHIGAN PRODUCTS

EAST LANSING — Plans to promote Michigan products throughout the state during Mich- igan Week neared completion to- day.

Regional product chairmen, each representing one of 16 regions, re- viewed their promotional plans with the State Product Committee in all-day session at the Kellogg Center, Michigan State Univer- sity.

Wesley R. Baker, executive as- sistant of the S. S. Kresge Com- pany, State Product Chairman, said the 1961 Michigan Week cel- ebration, scheduled for May 21-27, gives every promise of being the biggest and most successful to date.

"Our committee members report enthusiasm has more than doubl- ed over last year," he said, "largely through the efforts of the regional and county workers."

"Many Michigan cities, such as Flint and Highland Park, are planning downtown product shows; farm communities expect to emphasize crops grown loca- ly; retailers are developing co- operative promotions with manufac- turers and suppliers. In all cases, local programs will be tailored to local conditions and interests."

Miss Michigan, Judy A. Rich- ards of Dearborn, and Mrs. Mich- igan, Mrs. John E. (Geraldine) Scott of Traverse City, who both are expected to play important roles in Michigan product promotions, attended the meeting.

Baker stressed the importance of getting all community groups to co-operate. "This is an activity designed by Michigan people to help all Michigan people," he ex- plained, "and factory workers and housewives have a stake in Mich- igan's future just as manufactur- ers, retailers, farmers, educators and other groups."

Michigan Week was started in 1954 by a group of state civic leaders. It has no connection with any political party or political ac- tivities. More than 6,000 volun- teers are devoting their time to- ward the success of the event.

Crawford County Products Chairman is Donald Jansen.

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

Lubricates itself—You'll go 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications (which cost only about $4.00 and take about 20 minutes) because Ford has replaced conventional grease fittings with a sealed-in lubrication system.

Cleans its own oil—You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes because Ford's Full-Flow oil filter gives you filtration through three... trapping more dirt than any other type of steel-wool.

Adjusts its own brakes—New-Ford Size brakes adjust themselves... automatically.

Quarrels its own rust—Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and laminated to naturally last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

Protects its own body—All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing the body panels beneath the doors.

Takes care of its own finish—Just wash and clean Ford's new Diamond Lustre Finish and it continues to glisten like new. It even resists staining.
